LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS.

Mrs. Fred T. Myers, Misses Mary Whitfield and Edith Elliot, and Mr. Lindsay Papy visited Jacksonville this week.

Mayor W. M. McIntosh has gotten fully down to business, and intends that all the city ordinances must be enforced or he proposes to know the reason why.

If you wish to purchase any kind of cemetery work, such as monuments, tombs, coping, etc., see Mr. Clark at Leon before he leaves.

The hosts of friends of Mr. Eugene Duval are pleased that he is so far recovered as to be out on the street again and some at Duval Bros. store.

Mr. N. P. Pogose, of the Jaenecke Printing Ink Co., of Newark, N. J., was in the city Tuesday and made us a pleasant visit.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Causseaux, of Wakulla, spent several days in the city this week, and Mr. C. made us pleasant visits.

Have your monuments reset on good foundations, cleaned up, and make your cemetery lot look neat. See C. J. Clark, at Leon Hotel.

Mr. William N. Sheets, Jr., representing one of the largest book companies in the country, spent several days with his people and Tallahassee friends again this week.

Mr. W. D. Wilson, who has been confined home a long while with sickness, is reported to be improving, and his hosts of friends hope soon to have him out among them a well man again.

Mr. H. W. Bethel will hereafter assist us in gathering local and personal items for this paper. If your friends visit you, your people visit abroad, or you have an entertainment, report it to the office or give it to him.

If you have any eye or nervous trouble, do not fail to consult Dr. Armstrong, the well-known Specialist, who makes his next professional visit to this city March 4-5, and may be seen at the Bloxham Hotel.

Capt. E. N. Mathes, chief of the pension bureau at Tallahassee, is spending a week in the vicinity for the benefit of his health, and is a visitor to Tampa today.—Tampa Times, 21st.

The Florida Press Association will meet in annual session at Key West next week, and that city is preparing to loyally entertain the newspaper men. Sorry we can not attend personally. Mr. Bethel, one of the local assistants, will be along to represent the True Democrat.

Do not forget that Dr. E. H. Armstrong, the well-known eye and nerve specialist, appears in person and will be here on his next visit March 4-5.

Miss Clem Hampton's reception to the Florida State College pupils last week was a grand success, and a most pleasant evening was spent at the Leon by all who attended. Tallahasseeans all take a deep interest in the college girls.

Gorton's Minstrels are to come to Tallahassee, March 6th. The company may be classed as the best, most artistic and complete in every respect the management has ever presented. A number of very strong specialties have been engaged, and a thoroughly pleasing and up-to-date performance is guaranteed. Especial attention has been given to the selection of the vocal contingents. Comedy and high class special acts have been liberally provided, and, as usual with the company, the instrumental music will be of the highest order.

If you need to have your monuments or tombs made like new, see C. J. Clark at Hotel Leon.

To those wishing inscriptions cut on monuments or tombstones, can have same attended to by calling on Mr. C. J. Clark, Leon Hotel.

Mr. Earnest McLin visited his father and mother Monday, and his host of Tallahassee friends were pleased to greet him in Tallahassee again. Mr. McLin is with the large and successful Marion farms, and resides at Ocala.

The Wakulla Breeze informs the Ocala Banner and the Times-Union that if they "will look a little more carefully over the pages of the Breeze, they will see that Wakulla's representative to the legislature is 'taking notice' of a few needed things before he comes to Tallahassee."

"Sweetly Sleeping Near the Suwannee," is the title of one of latest and sweetest songs of the season, written and composed by the principal of The Gem Business College, Tallahassee, Fla. Those interested in pursuing a course of night instruction in this excellent business school, should take advantage of the opportunity by making arrangements, at an early date, to enter the night classes.

From the Pensacola Journal we take the following: "The retirement of Mr. John G. Ward from the business management of the Daily News, which he announced in Sunday's issue, will be regretted by his many friends throughout the state, as well as in Pensacola. Mr. Ward served the News as business manager for several years, and the paper shows the effects of his wise business judgment during that period."

The rule that troubles and misfortunes never come singly applies to Mr. Louis Horne recently. Some days ago, on account of sickness in his family, he brought his wife and children to the city and placed them under physicians. A few days afterwards, fire, supposed to be the work of an incendiary, destroyed his sheds and barns, with feed stuff, etc., and on Monday morning early, while only he and one child were at home alone, a kerosene lamp is said to have exploded, his residence fired and all totally destroyed, he and his child barely escaping from the building. We learn he had several hundred dollars insurance, however, which will lessen the losses.

The man who handles the local department of a newspaper, learns after due experience not to expect, even briefly, expressed thanks from a column of pleasant things, but he knows as surely as cometh the winter that a single line in which there is an unintentional misrepresentation will cause some one to be heard from as if from a house top. And we may add that when he has made pleasant mention 999 times of some person, place or thing, but on the thousandth time fails to do so, he must not expect to be forgotten. The omission may have been from accidental inadvertence or even an entire lack of knowledge. It matters not. The simple fact remains and he will be judged by that.—Grimesville Sun.

Our fire department were called out again Sunday evening at about 7 o'clock, and in a few minutes had under control and extinguished a small fire in a barn in the rear of the First Baptist Church, which had it gained headway more than probably would have burned out the whole block, containing, besides the church and Masonic building, several residences, those of Mr. W. F. Quail, the Johnson boarding house and Mr. Robert Phillips' home. The fire boys, however, were prompt and managed their equipment effectively, and again are to be congratulated. Tallahassee never had a more efficient fire force than at present, it is made up of some of our best young men, and the organization is the pride of the city. Nothing should be too good for them.

I expect to have two expert workmen here Monday, the 4th, who do all kind of marble work. If you need to have any inscriptions cut on tombstone, or wish your lot put in perfect order by having tombs cleaned of stain and moss, see me at once. C. J. Clark, Leon Hotel.

Postage stamps of the issue of 1907, put on sale at the 6,000 presidential postoffices, will bear on their face the name of the state and city in which the postoffice is situated. The chief reason for this innovation is said at the postoffice department to be the belief that it will help to do away with the big postoffice robberies and make it much easier to trace criminals.—Exchange.

Among the first-class special acts which comprise the olio of Gorton's Minstrels is the comedy and dancing specialty of Welby, Pearl and Fell. Jake Welby's negro comedy has long been noted for its originality and excellence, and forms a conspicuous part of this sketch, while C. C. Pearl contributes a marvelous dancing performance. They will appear with Gorton's Minstrels at Munro's Opera House March 6th.

From the Bainbridge Tribune of the 27th, we take the following which we hope will prove untrue: "We have the information unofficial that the Auditor's office of the G. F. & A. will be moved here in the near future from Tallahassee and will be in the Shingler building where the general freight and passenger offices are. This will bring the clerical force of the system to Bainbridge." Mr. W. H. Carroll, with his force, now reside in this city, and we can see no good reason for the change. We feel it would be decidedly best, all round, were all the offices and the shops located in Tallahassee.

Fig, peach, plum, pear and various other kinds of trees and shrubbery are budding and blooming in the gardens of Tallahassee, and we note several orange trees of different sizes are perfectly green, showing that the cold spell some weeks ago did very little if any damage here. But should we have another very cold spell, which is feared will come this month, great damage may be expected to the fruits and flowers, as everything is budding and blooming.
